CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

AT THE THREE CHURCHES IN BETHEL.

M. E. Church.

Christmas at the Methodist church was observed by a concert and trees Tuesday evening.

The church decorations which were in charge of Mrs. T. H. Durell, were the prettiest of any year within our remembrance. Ropes of evergreen were fastened from the chancel to the four corners of the church and also draped upon the walls, interspersed with wreaths of evergreen. A large red star was suspended from the center of the roof at the front of the church.

The concert was in charge of Miss Bessie Andrews and was very successful. Miss Andrews has a special talent for this line of work and the excellent rendering of both music and recitations showed the pains taking care she had put into the concert.

The recitation by little Ethel Capen and the songs and recitation by little Gard Herick, deserve special mention.
These two children being the youngest to take part in the concert, and they were heartily applauded.

A feature which was especially pleasing to the children was the singing of their "songs" by three little girls and the appearance of Santa Claus from the place to fill them. Little Gard Herick was so anxious for a sled that he could not resist the temptation of asking Santa, "Have you brought my sled?" which very much amused the audience. After this, two well laden trees were unloaded which concluded the exercises of the evening.

Universalist.

The Christmas supper at the Universalist chapel last Tuesday evening was an occasion of a large gathering and politeness and good cheer prevailed. The supper was free and all the children were there as well as the older ones. Nearly one hundred took supper. Following the supper there was a short program in the church after which there was a visit from Santa Claus, whose presence caused much merriment. After Santa's departure the gifts were distributed from two well laden trees.

The gathering at the church was unusually large for the Christmas occasion.

Congregational.

Although the cold and snow which is usually present at Christmas time to help Santa Claus, was omitted this year, it was a party of happy expectant children who gathered at Garland chapel Christmas eve.

After supper, which was served to the Sabbath School and members of the society had been enjoyed, the children gave a most interesting program under the direction of the Rev. Miss Belle Partridge and Miss Ethel Richardson.
The program consisted of recitations and songs by the younger members of the school with selections by a chorus of young ladies. Much credit is due to the children who entered so heartily into the spirit of the occasion and many words of commendation were given to Misses Partridge and Richardson for their untiring efforts in the preparation of the program. Mrs. Dr.
Wright sang a solo very sweetly, accompanied by Miss Hall upon the piano and Harry Partridge on the mandolin.

The trees were prettily decorated and also were well filled with presents and the children were not the only ones to be made happy for a real Christmas night seemed to inspire those of many or years ago, and each one could say with Tim T. "Ood was an everybody."

BASKET BALL.

First Girls' Game of the Season Last Friday Evening.

The first girls' basket ball game of the season was played in the gymnasium last Friday evening between the Gould's first and second teams.

The fact that it was a girls' game probably explains the large attendance, whether that fact or any other the attendance was large, the largest for the season unless possibly the first Cyclone game.

Considering the fact that the girls have done very little practicing the game was a good one, not as rough and tumble as the Cyclone games but lively and well played. Miss King, the captain of the first team did some star playing and a few of her sort would put the Cyclones out of sight.
The score was 10 to 2 in favor of the first team.

The line up was as follows:

1st Team. 2nd Team.
Susan King 1 f. 1 f. Annie Ploger Margaret Walker 1 f. 1 f. Lillian Bean Florence Eaton 1 c. 1 c. Cecil Bonnett Methel Packard 1 g. 1 g. Gladys Buck Pearl Bonnett 1 g. 1 g. Ida Packard

Goals from field, Susan King 4.
Gladys Buck 1, Ida Packard 1.

Referee, Robertson.

GOULD'S VS PORTLAND HIGH.

In another column of this issue will be found the schedule of games arranged thus far by the G. A. Basket Ball team. It will be observed that the first includes some of the strongest teams to the state. One of them the Portland High School team will appear at the G. A. gymnasium next Friday night. This will be an interesting game and should call out a multitude.

Mr. Bankhart, a coach from Dar-mouth College has been engaged and the boys are training under him this week, and it is confidently expected that next Friday evening will bring a victory to them. Certainly a packed house will be an inspiration to them and we trust that the people of Bethel will see to it that they are thus inspired. By the way, there are more than one who have not headed their contribution toward the expense of the coach to Mr. Bowler. Please do so this week.

A CHRISTMAS GATHERING.

One of the many pleasant gatherings on Christmas night was that at the home of Miss Lucy Fox, given by her mother, Mrs. Eva R. Fox. It was a family reunion with a few invited guests besides. A tree loaded with gifts graced a table in the center of the sitting room and amid much merriment the tree was unloaded by Mr.
John Nelson.

Delicious refreshments of fruit were served by Miss Fox. Several of the ladies present had been earnest attendants of the cooking school which had been recently held, and one lady received a sample box of the many pure foods advertised at the school and they were accompanied by the following poem, which we think will be of interest to the many attendants of the school:

A lady there was who to cooking class went,
On learning to eat stylish things she was sent,
She cheerfully sacrificed tastes of long years
And ate morsels which even from dogs would draw tears.

She even pretended to like Shredded
Wheat,
Beecham's bacon and butter, and eat and dried meat;
The Jello confections filled her with delight, Baker's Cocoa and coffee (White House) were—out of sight.

She loved one hour rolls and tea biscuits
—William Tell
And even got to like Matinee macaroni with Long live Myrtle Kibby! Long live
Mable Carver,
Of the things they accomplish we are all ardent lovers.

UNIVERSALIST NOTES.

Death of Leon H. Tyler.

Leon H. Tyler died at his home in West Bethel December 25, 1907, at the age of 49 years, after a short illness of two weeks. He was born in Mason, Maine in 1859, the youngest son of Hiram and Sarah (Putnam) Tyler. He married Helen Morrill, daughter of David Morrill, who with three children, two sons, Clarence and Almond and a daughter, Mian are left to mourn his death.

He was a highly respected citizen and a prosperous farmer and will be much missed in the town, as well as in his home, and the family have the sympathy of the entire community.

The funeral took place Sunday at the church, conducted by the Old Fellows of Bethel of which order he was a member.

Died at West Bethel.

Died at the residence of M. E. Grover Dec. 27, Harbank Waterhouse, a native of Poland, Me. He was a great care for over a year before his death, being totally deaf for over 25 years and partially dumb. At the age of 14 he was considered one of the brightest scholars in his town, but brain fever followed by a shock, paralyzed one side so that he has been a cripple from that time through his life.
Mr. Waterhouse was a brother of Mr.
Grover's first wife with whom he lived a home in his last days. His own people have all passed over the river and left him to complete life's journey alone. His age was 52 years. He was buried on his birth day, Dec. 18, 1907.

idays.

MARSHALL DISTRICT.

A Happy New Year to all.

The many friends and neighbors of Mrs. G. H. Fernald were saddened Tuesday morning to learn that she had passed away during the night.

The funeral was held at her late home where a large gathering of relatives, friends and neighbors went to pay their last respects to one who had always been ready and willing to help anywhere and anyone that needed help. She will be greatly missed by the son who has always lived at home, the daughter who has lived near and the companion who has lived with her fifty years or over, besides a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Harry Luman of West Bethel and her mother, Mrs. Edgar Andrews of Bethel, attended the funeral of Mrs.
G. H. Fernald, last Thursday.

Mrs. Isiah Hazell and daughter, Bertha Andrews went to Bethel Tuesday.

Nina and Irene Briggs spent Thursday with their little friends, Gladys and Edith Rogers.

NEWRY.

There were quite a number went to North Newry last Tuesday evening to attend the Christmas exercises.

Don Smith has a crew logging on the Bartlett farm.

F. H. Douglass is at home from Bethel where he has been pressing hay.

Edgar Lewis is working for W. F.
Small for a few days.

Her Turn.

"I don't see that gentleman who used to come in every morning, remarked the man who was sitting at a table of the 'You remember the one who always gave his orders to the waitress' waitress."

"Oh, he hasn't been here for some time," laughed the proprietor of the lunch room. "The waitress gives him orders now."

"Yes, he married her," Chicago News.

A Familiar Face.

"Now you don't know me do you?" asked the girl in the pawnshop's shop.

"No, I can't say I know you," replied the pawnbroker, "but your face is very familiar."

"But I was never in here before in my life."

"Perhaps not, when but I've seen your picture in half a dozen watches that have been in here," Yankee Statesman.

Reaction.

"Don't describe me, doctor. Tell me the truth. Will my boy get well?"

"Get well? Why, madam, he is in no more danger of dying than you are.
The one who didn't touch him. It was the rose platform he was lying on."

"The little man?" "Oh, why him within an inch of his life for giving me such a scare?" Chicago Tribune.

Where Women Vote.

"And did you vote today?" asked the president of the Women's club.

"No, I'm sorry to say I did not."

"But you promised to."

"I know I did, but on the way to the polls I got in a discussion with a man about women's right to vote, and I talked so long that when I got to the polls they were closed!"—Yankee Statesman.

Questions for Questions.

"Why do women insist on going to matrons for the sake of crying?" he inquired, indignantly. "Haven't they enough trouble of their own?"

"I don't know," replied she, "why do men insist on pulling into a police court merely for the sake of experiencing a new kind of lawsuit?"—Washington Post.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be glad to learn that there is one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietary have no more faith in its curative powers than they offer this Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children.
When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood.
Children, and even adults, who feel listless, are irritable, feel nervous and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, feel tongue, offensive breath; have a full belly, with occasional griping and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and when in children, constipation—is the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

A pure vegetable compound, has been the standard remedy since 1872. It never fails to cure not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir constantly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a purgative of coughs, colds, fever and worms but gives rugged, sound health.

PULLING FENCE POSTS.

A Hard Task Made Easy by Use of Plank and Chain.

An easy and practical method of pulling posts, by which all digging and hard labor is eliminated, is shown in cut. Take a plank, 1 ft. wide, 4 ft. long, and make a V-shaped notch at one end, nailing on several crosspieces to prevent splitting. This plank is used to change the horizontal draft to the vertical. Place the end of the chain around the post close to the ground, incline the plank against the post so the lower end will be 1 1/2 ft. from the base of the post, place the chain in the notch of the plank, hitch the team to the post and start up. In a few seconds the post is clear of the ground. In moving fences, says the Farm and Home, the chain should be attached to the rear axle of the wagon so the posts may be loaded and hauled to the new location.

THE FARMER BOY.

Temper the Work to His Strength and Let Him Have His Play Time.

Every farmer desires to keep his boy at home as long as he can do so, that he may thus live a protected life as long as possible. This is right. It is a mistake to permit the farm boy to launch out for himself at too tender an age. The father of the boy must remember that the muscles of the boy are not hard like his own and that he cannot do the same amount of work as he himself can do, with equal ease. The muscles of a growing boy are soft, for they are constantly being increased in size by the addition of new material.

Many farm boys are driven from the farm by too hard work. They are made to take the place of a hired man at a very early age and the father often forgets that they have not the same indifference to pleasure as himself. The boy needs a good deal of recreation and a chance to mingle with other farm boys. The farm boy should have a fair chance at the pleasures of childhood and youth, as the city boy has. His work should be carefully limited.

The usual farm boy is a worker anyway. He early learns to do the most difficult tasks on the farm, says Farmers' Review, and is worth more to his parents than any hired man is worth. His parents should therefore study him and his needs. His needs include many things besides the food he gets and the clothes he wears. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," is an old saying, but strictly true. Many a farm boy has been overworked into a dizziness that has lasted him his life through.

POINTERS.

A hedgehog—the neighbor who won't keep up his fence—Farm Journal.

Some farmers find great advantage in sowing rye at the last working of the corn. Might try a patch.

The manure spreader has decreased the number of rich barnyards and increased the number of rich fields in stead.

Don't sell any clover hay if you have stock to feed it. It is worth twice as much for fertilizer as for feed.

Now only the plowman, wheat until this fall. Run it through the fanning mill and take all the foul stuff out. Good seed is half the crop.

The cost of a pair of farm axes will be saved the first year by preventing the losses from gnawing at weights of other products brought in.

The hoe is one of the most useful implements on the farm, but it is not automatic in its operation. To be effective it needs a strong arm and a willing hand.

Seed Alfalfa in Fall. On account of the more abundant growth of weeds and grass in the spring and early summer, late sowing of early fall seedling of alfalfa is recommended by the Pennsylvania Experiment Station. If the land is not tilled during the early part of the season and seeded in alfalfa in July or August, ideal conditions, so far as the establishment of the young plants is concerned, will be most nearly approached.

Don't Break the Hammer. Look out! You'll break that hammer handle trying to pull that rusty nail. Hit the nail a rap or two, driving it into the wood. Then it will come out easy, says Farm Journal. When you get out, get a bit of hard wood under the head of the hammer for a fulcrum. See how easy it works.

The President Farmer. He doesn't have to sell his crop. He has the farmers' market of a neighbor who is getting ahead. There is a whole volume in that expression.

FERTILIZING THE SOIL.

Be Sure You Put in What the Plants Will Use.

The man that puts into the soil fertilizer wants to make sure that it is utilized by the plants for which it is placed in the ground. It is possible to apply barnyard manure and especially the chemical fertilizers under conditions where they will be ineffective in doing the work they are intended to do. It may be taken for granted that if the fertilizers are placed in dry soil and the soil remains dry it will do plants no good. More than that, in the dry soil the destructive chemical processes will be going on that will burn up the fertilizers of an organic nature.

When men sow such chemical fertilizers on the surface of the ground and merely cultivate them in, when they are cultivating to make a dust mulch, they are but taking the surest way to destroy all the fertilizer of an organic nature as fast as it is yielded up available plant food. Moisture is needed and a quite constant supply of it in the form, not of water, such as exists below the water table, but such as exists in the soil as film water around the soil particles.

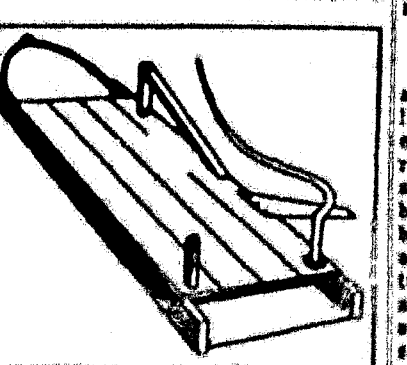

Mr. Thomas C. Wallace, who has spent his life studying fertilizers and soil questions, has now charge of a large fertilizer business in California. He tells the writer that in that state it is found exceedingly difficult to fertilize the grape vineyards. This is due to the fact that the vineyards are on light sandy soil, and the sand is perfectly dry down sometimes six, eight and ten inches from the surface. The moisture and heavier soil is below that. Thousands of grape growers have put expensive fertilizers into the surface soil of their vineyards to have it do apparently no good. The reason is that the moisture is not present that would set it free for the use of the plants. The rains that come occasionally wash very little of it down to the soil below. It is evident that such fertilizing materials as ground bone will remain for a very long time in such soil without doing good. An occasional irrigation also has little effect in setting loose the plant food from the stored-up fertilizer. If dried blood is put into such soil it is evident that it will soon be burned up in the dry sand and will largely disappear in gas produced by its chemical changes. The vineyards are not cultivated on account of the practice of allowing the vines to die on the ground without supports.

The same principle holds good in any part of the country where dry soil is the bed in which manure is placed, says the Farmers' Review. There are many people who have the idea that manure once put on the soil will lie there until it is utilized if it takes years. That is a costly mistake. The air receives some of the most valuable portions of all fertilizers so applied. Fertilizers must be gotten into the moist soil to become available.

Amount of work where it is handled right. Of course, the harvester you can buy will do more and quicker work and are what you want if you have much corn to cut, but the home-made affair we show here with this a place with the small farmer and is comparatively inexpensive.

ABOUT THE FARM.

The cow should be turned dry a month or six weeks before the arrival of the calf is expected. Never milk a cow up to the time she is expected to be fresh.

Under no circumstances should any thing be added to milk to prevent it from souring. Salt and kieselguhr both the laws of God and man condemn and cold are the only preservatives needed.

Keep only healthy cows. Promptly remove from the herd any animal that is suspected of being ill. In fact, remove all of them to the herd house in a proven fact that they are free from all kinds of disease.

It is just as easy to raise the best of everything as it is to raise inferior products. Be satisfied with nothing short of the best that can be produced in your neighborhood. If you are you will soon be classed a second rate farmer.

People rarely respect the farmer who does not respect his business enough to keep everything in proper condition. The farmer with the poor fence, the broken barn and the untidy house holds rarely has the respect of his neighbors.

APPLE IN COOKING.

MANY WAYS OF SERVING DELICIOUS FRUIT.

Filled with Nuts They Make a Delightful Dessert—Baked and Served with Meat—Apple Croquettes—Something New.

Baked Apples.—A baked apple is the most easily digested of any way of serving apples, but there are baked apples and baked apples.

For variety's sake, try peeling them before baking. Peel and core the apples carefully, fill the hollows with sugar and any spices preferred, lay in an enameled baking pan, pour just enough water to cover the bottom, then bake in a moderate oven until tender and delicately crisped on the surface. Sometimes a bit of butter is placed on top of each apple before putting in the oven. Meantime take the cores and peelings, cover with water and stew gently for an hour. Strain, sweeten slightly, add a little nutmeg, cinnamon or lemon, and pour over the apples, cool in the pan in which the apples are baked, then serve cold with cream.

Apples should never be baked in tin, which darkens both apples and juice.

Fillings for Baked Apples.—As a variety is the spice of life, even in baked apples, here are a few good fillings that may be used from time to time. Nuts are especially nice for this. Any kind may be used, but pecans, black walnuts, hickory nuts or butternuts are perhaps best. For a dozen large apples, a cup and a half of the meats will be required. Chop fine and mix with sugar, allowing a dessertspoonful for each apple. Fill the cavities and bake in the usual way. A half banana sprinkled with sugar and lemon juice makes a good filling for an apple. Figs and dates steamed, chopped and rolled in sugar, chopped nuts with strips of lemon or orange peel, or honey and butter are all appropriate and usually approved.

Baked Apples to Serve with Meat.—Wash and core tart apples, then fill with equal parts crumbs and mushrooms. Season with catsup or fine herbs as preferred. Put a bit of butter on top of each apple, add a little water to the baking pan and bake until tender.

Fried Apples.—These are also excellent served with any form of pork. Select large, firm apples rather tart and wash without paring. Core, cut in slices half an inch thick, then brown in pork fat or butter, turning with a pancake turner, so as not to break. If preferred a trifle sweet, sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over the uncooked side just before turning. Fried Apples are especially nice with fried pork or sausage.

Apple Croquettes.—Put over the fire in a saucepan one cup stale bread crumbs and a half cup milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth, then add one large apple chopped fine, and a dozen almonds, ground, the yolks of two eggs beaten with a tablespoonful lemon juice and the grated yellow rind of half a lemon. Cook until thickened, then turn out on a platter to cool. When quite cool form into croquettes; roll in fine crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Serve with caramel sauce, maple sugar or powdered sugar.

Indian Relish.

Peel and chop one white cabbage and six white onions and arrange in layers in stone jar, covering each layer with salt. Stand for 24 hours, then rinse in cold water and drain in colander. Bring a pint of vinegar to the boiling point, with one-half pound of brown sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, a heaping teaspoon each of turmeric, marjoram, black pepper, allspice and ground cinnamon and two teaspoons each of celery and mustard seed. Stir this spiced vinegar into cabbage and onion mixture, set aside over night. In the morning drain off the vinegar, heat to boiling point again and pour it over the pickle. Do this again on the next day then set aside over night. Now turn the vegetables and vinegar into a kettle, boil hard for five minutes. Then set aside until cold and pack in jars.

Fried Corn.

Cut the corn carefully from six ears of nice sweet corn. Do not soak, and be careful not to cut any of the cob with the corn, but have each grain separate. Put one tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, put in the corn and fry until a nice brown, stirring often. Draw the pan away from the hot fire, add half a cupful of hot cream and salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once in a hot dish. Nice for breakfast or lunch.

Buying Window Curtains.

When buying window curtains always allow sufficient for a deep hem both top and bottom, one wide enough to take the tape, through which to put the nails or rings which secure the blind to the roller. When selected at the bottom blind made in this way may easily be turned upside down and need to go to the cleaner's not nearly so often as if made in the ordinary way.

Serving the Butter.

When the butter is dried and ready to put away after the week's work, set it on the stove, and while hot rub it all over the inside and around the seams with laundry soap. It prevents rusting, and the butter will keep new and last very much longer. All this soap is not lost either, as it is dissolved in the water for the next week's wash. Harper's Bazar.

USES FOR OLD RAGS.

Odd and Ends Can Be Turned to Good Account.

Old balbriggan underwear and out-let or wash flannel may be used for mop rags, but better still is the waste or woven mop cloth which can be bought at any furniture shop. Mopping floors is hard on cloths, and it pays to buy something woven for the purpose.

Old silk skirts and walsies can be cut up and washed for dusts. Nothing except perhaps chamamois is better for a piano case than soft old silk. For taking finger marks and spots off a piano case use a chamamois and cold water. Polish dry with chamamois or old silk. Old silk is also good for dusting brushes.

Old black stockings may be made into mitts with which to rub dust out of silk skirts. Put a mitt on either hand and rub the silk on both right and wrong side. These mitts do better work than any clothes brush made, especially if mud or clay is thickly encrusted in the silk.

Do not employ old stockings for holders to be used around the stove unless you cover them with ticking. Better even than stockings, to hold-ers is cotton flannel or calico.

The best dish rags are made from cheese cloth doubled and sewed with seams turned inside. Next to cheese cloth come old gauze shirts, sewed double. Either of these fabrics is so porous that grease and grime wash out easily.

Put your rags in a washing powder and household ammonia. Do not let them get hopelessly and tremendously dirty. And have handy hooks and racks on which to hang them where air and sunlight will strike them.

TO PICKLE SMALL CUCUMBERS.

Instructions That If Followed Will Give Best Results.

Take a hundred small cucumbers, dry-packed and fresh from the vines, wash the sand from them and wipe them dry. Place them in a large stone jar or wooden vessel, put on top of them a pint of salt, a piece of alum size of small nutmeg and cover with boiling water. Cover with a close fitting lid or tie several thick-nesses of paraffin paper over the top and let stand 20 hours. Take out the cucumbers, wipe them dry, place them in a clean jar in alternate layers, with following spices: Take one tablespoonful of mustard seed, one of allspice, a root of horseradish grated or cut in thin strips, a few small red peppers and sufficient vinegar to fill the jars, which must be only two-thirds full of cucumbers. When cold cover closely and they will keep for years. Pour the vinegar over the pickles while boiling hot.

Frozen Maple Syrup Souffle.

One pint maple syrup, one cup of sugar, one-half box of gelatin, one half cup of cold water, yolks of six eggs, one quart of cream. Mix the sugar and syrup together, cover the gelatin with cold water and soak one-half hour, then add one pint of boiling water and stir until dissolved. Beat the yolks of the eggs and stir in the syrup and gelatin. Freeze. When about frozen stir in quickly the cream, which must be whipped stiff. Set aside, well packed in ice for two hours before serving. This is also served in paper cups. There are innumerable designs for these dainty cups, and they look very pretty when served with a cherry in the center of each. Serve narrow slices of fingers of chocolate frosted cake with this souffle.

Bran Gems.

This recipe is for bran gems, and so delicious are they that anyone who has not eaten them in the "casseroles" says a writer in the Housekeeper. A clean hygienic treat may now be obtained from any up-to-date grocer.

The recipe calls for one egg, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, if liked sweet, one cupful milk, one cupful flour, two cupfuls bran, two teaspoonfuls baking powder and a pinch of salt. Bake in gem pans in a hot oven. One-third of a cupful of currants may be added, if desired, and will be found extremely nice.

Acorn Portiers.

A new idea for the girl who has a taste for odd furnishings is a portiere made of acorns. If you wish to make one, gather quantities of acorns in different stages of ripeness, from glossy brown to greens. In your leisure moments sort them into little piles, according to color and arrange them as your fancy dictates—different tones on one string or one shade in one string. The effect will be better if the larger acorns are at the top. When done, fasten them on a light rod or grille that fits your door.

A Tasty Salad.

An attractive and tasty salad has been seen for many a day was served at a luncheon recently. Green grapes cut into halves and bananas in cubes had been covered with oil and powdered sugar and allowed to stand on the ice for a couple of hours. Whipped cream topped the salad when it was sent to the table.

Poke Holes.

Poke holes should always be frowned upon. They are unsightly, unwholesome and undeniably destroyers of the disposition as persons warranted to hold what you want meet in a hurry. Cultivate the habit of destroying everything not absolutely needed, and of putting everything that is sure-ly to be appreciated place.

HOUSEHOLD CARES.

Take the Women of Bethel the same as Elsewhere.

Hard to attend to household duties with a constantly aching back. A woman should not have a bad back.

And she wouldn't if the kidneys were well. Doan's Kidney Pills make well kidneys.

Old S. H. Booth, of 126 Bartlett St., Lewiston, Me., says: "Attacks of backache bothered me now and then for a number of years, and when they were at their worst I suffered terrible pain. It continued with a dull grinding ache until I was very sore and lame across the small of the back. The trouble seemed to sap all my energy and made ordinary household work burdensome. I doctored a great deal but found little more than temporary relief and was practically as bad as ever when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store and began using them. After taking the first box I felt so much improved that I continued their use until all of the pain in the back and all other symptoms. Doan's Kidney Pills have since become a family remedy with us, and they have never failed to do all that we have expected of them."

Risky.

Mrs. Goodkind—Just got a letter from my husband. He forgot to send his love.

Mrs. Chillicothe—Kearney—Ah, well; that's too perishable a thing to send through the mails, you know.—Chicago Tribune.

Well Equipped.

Mrs. Nagsen—Mrs. Chatterton certainly has a good nose for scandal. Nagsen—Yes, and a good mouth for putting it in circulation.—Chicago Daily News.

Extremely Rare.

Cashem—I wish they would get another cook at our boarding house. The steak is always too rare to suit me. Jashem—Huh! At my boarding house the steak is so rare we only see it once or twice a week.—Chicago Daily News.

DO YOU HAT PIE?

If not you are missing half the pleasure of life. Just order from your grocer a few packages of "OUR PIE?" and learn how easy it is to make lemon, chocolate, and custard pies that will please you. If your grocer won't supply you, go to one who will.

BITTER ROT OF APPLES.

Suggestions as to How the Disease
Can Be Controlled.

The control of bitter rot of apples receives attention in circular 112 issued from the Illinois experiment station and prepared by Prof. J. C.
Blair. The author takes advantage of the opportunity to repeat the conclusions that have been reached at Urbana by the authorities. Here they are:

1. Bordeaux mixture properly made and applied will save over 50 per cent.
of the fruit liable to attack by bitter rot.

2. Fruit sprayed in such a manner as to be thoroughly coated with Bordeaux mixture when the first infection
of the disease appears will be injured
least by bitter rot.

3. Spraying with Bordeaux mixture until the fruit is thoroughly coated after bitter rot has become well established may control the disease to a considerable extent in some seasons.
In other seasons its effect as a remedy is very slight.

4. Bordeaux mixture applied in the liquid form and made according to the 1-4-50 formula is the most effective spraying material for the control of apple bitter rot.

5. Dust sprays are absolutely ineffective in preventing bitter rot.

6. Pure solutions of copper sulphate failed to check the disease and caused injury to the foliage.

7. To coat the fruit thoroughly with the mixture it is necessary to make at least three applications of the spray material.

8. Applications of 25 pounds of salt to the ground about a tree have no value in checking the disease.

9. The conditions most favorable for the development of bitter rot are a period of hot weather accompanied by frequent rains and heavy dews at a period when the apple crop is approaching maturity, i. e. from

BEE MARK MAN'S COMING.

Wild Ones All Descended from These Once Domesticated.

All the honey bees in this country having originally been imported from Europe or Asia, there is no racial difference between the wild ones and the domesticated, those that live in trees are simply the descendants of those "French leaves" from their owners' hives and reverted to a state of nature. The vast bulk of the wild bees are of the German or black race, while the standard domesticated bee is the Italian; but that, however, is only because the Germans were the first to be introduced here. Just when the German came is in doubt, but it was some time in the seventeenth century; certainly it was not until near the close of the eighteenth century that any bees were found west of the Mississippi. The Indians used to say that the bees were the appearance of bees in the woods. The Italian bees were first imported in 1850. Better tempered and more industrious than the Germans, they have become popular with apiculturists; but as many still keep the German bee, and others have the hybrid formed by the crossing of the two races, while countless Italians now have taken to the woods, there is breed more hybrids, it is clear that there is no sure way of distinguishing between the wild bees and the domesticated.—Outing Magazine.

1. Bordeaux mixture properly made
and applied will save over 50 per cent.
of the fruit liable to attack by bitter
rot.

2. Fruit sprayed in such a manner as to be thoroughly coated with Bordeaux mixture when the first infection
of the disease appears will be injured
least by bitter rot.

3. Spraying with Bordeaux mixture until the fruit is thoroughly coated
after bitter rot has become well established may control the disease to a considerable extent in some seasons.
In other seasons its effect as a remedy
is very slight.

4. Bordeaux mixture applied in the liquid form and made according to the 1-4-50 formula is the most effective spraying material for the control
of apple bitter rot.

5. Dust sprays are absolutely ineffective in preventing bitter rot.

6. Pure solutions of copper sulphate failed to check the disease and
caused injury to the foliage.

7. To coat the fruit thoroughly with the mixture it is necessary to make at least three applications of
the spray material.

8. Applications of 25 pounds of salt to the ground about a tree have no
value in checking the disease.
